

Little Bells Newsletter

Week Ending 01.03.19

Welcome back everyone, I hope you all enjoyed the half term break. The children all seem revived and ready to learn. Our topic question this half term is; Can you save the day? We are going to link this to superheroes and people who help us. If your role involves helping people and you would like to come in and talk to the children, and show them the equipment you may use, please speak to me.

This week we have focused on Marvel superheroes and their super powers. The children have threaded Spiderman webs and painted their own superhero talking about what super powers they have. We have heard some really good language and vocabulary being used during carpet time discussions.

Thank you to our mystery readers this week the children have really enjoyed listening to other people read to them. If you would like to come in and read to the children this takes place at 3pm so just let me know what day is convenient for you.

Thank you to all the parents who attended parents evening last night, it was lovely to chat to you all and update you on your child's progress. If you have not yet had a meeting and would like one, please ask.

Next week we are going to make superheroes using socks, if you have any odd socks lying about, please could you bring them into school to make our superhero puppets.

Today we have celebrated World Book Day, the children have all read their favourite stories with myself, Mrs Potter and Miss Ashworth. It has been lovely to see them dressed up as their favourite character or in their comfy PJ's. I have quite enjoyed coming to work in my pyjamas, think this is something we should do more often! ☺

Have a lovely weekend,

Mrs Drugan
