

Little Bells Newsletter

Week Ending 18th June 21

This week we have been looking at different types of holidays from camping and caravanning to cruise holidays (yes please!). We have enjoyed sharing holiday experiences with each other. The most popular and well liked destination seems to be Blackpool! Admittedly I have only been there on a day trip but after today's discussion it's on my list for a staycation. Our role play area has reflected our learning and has turned into a camp site with a full sized tent, let me tell you it was no mean feat to get that put together with ten children all dying to get into it!

In Literacy we have been enjoying books all about characters taking camping trips and watching video clips of children enjoying a camping holiday with their family.

This week my phonics group have blown me away! the children who are transitioning into reception class have been working on segmenting for writing and blending for reading for September. They are doing amazing, as all the children are in Little Bells with their phonics. It is so important to keep up as much practise as you can with your child especially during the summer holidays which is fast approaching.

In Maths we are beginning to match numerals with the number of objects. This can sometimes be a little tricky so the children will be given lots of opportunity to practise this new skill.

To continue our theme of camping and as part of our welly walk we attempted to build a Tee pee, why did I underline attempted? you guessed it, with all great plans come some failures and this was it. As much as we tried we couldn't get the sticks far enough in the ground because it was too hard! However, this will not defeat us I will find a way, we will build our Tee pee!

I am currently working on re organising our wow event of a trip to the airport. As soon as I have some more information and a date I will let you know.

Have a wonderful weekend,

Mrs Hall
